

FORMICA WOODGRAINS RANGE

Formica® Woodgrains are enduringly popular: here innovation and tradition complement each other. Unobtrusively natural yet strikingly elegant, woodgrains are among the most versatile of designs.

Used extensively for new build and refurbishment, the range includes large sheet sizes and durable finishes. Fabricating with woodgrain laminates has many advantages: standardised colour and form; ease of handling; low manufacturing cost - all with no loss of apparent beauty.

For 2006 we have developed a unique new surface finish, Naturelle, available on a selection of newly-introduced species. This elegant finish emulates the look and feel of smoothly-planed waxed timber; it is the perfect complement to straight-grained or softly-planked woods.
